

Chapter Five

In this chapter we look at four major and four minor world religions along with what they believe and how they view the Trinity.

5. Why man seeks something spiritual.

Religion and Reasons

Man's natural instinct is to seek after a way to satisfy his spiritual hunger. He senses a void in his life but is unable to reason what or why. Without God's Spirit to fill man's spirit with life, impulsively he searches for anything with a spiritual tone to it. If it impresses him, he will usually follow it, sometimes without wise judgment. More often than not, religion is the way he chooses to fill the spiritual void. The bad news is—there are many paths available for him to travel, each claiming to be the right one. The book of Proverbs tells us:

- There is a way that seemeth right unto a man, but the end thereof are the ways of death. - (Proverbs 14:12)
